TASK 4:

Create a list of 5 Do's and 5 Don'ts for social media use.

DO'S:

- Think before you post — Ask yourself if the content is something you'd be comfortable with anyone seeing, including future employers.
- Engage respectfully — Reply to comments and messages with kindness and professionalism, even when you disagree.
- Protect your privacy — Regularly review your privacy settings and be cautious about sharing personal details like location or phone number.
- Share credible information — Always verify news or facts before reposting to avoid spreading misinformation.
- Take regular breaks — Set screen time limits and step away periodically to protect your mental health and productivity.

DONT'S:

- Don't overshare personal information — Avoid posting your address, daily routine, or financial details publicly.
- Don't engage with trolls or negativity — Arguing online rarely leads anywhere; it's better to block, mute, or simply ignore.
- Don't post in anger — Emotional posts made in the heat of the moment are hard to take back and can damage relationships or reputation.
- Don't plagiarize content — Always credit the original creator when sharing someone else's work, ideas, or images.
- Don't compare yourself to others — Social media shows highlights, not reality. Avoid measuring your life against curated online personas.
